MESSAGE

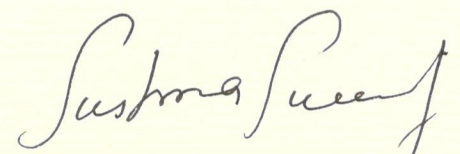

I am happy to know that the Central Vigilance Commission has decided to observe 'Vigilance Awareness Week' this year in all organizations with effect from 29th October – 3rd November, 2018. The theme for this year is 'Eradicate Corruption – Build a New India'.

Modern Nation and its growth is designed and defined by how the nation conducts, controls and coordinates its institutions to script a larger framework of economic and social development.

Encouragement for more integrated, transparent and devoted E-governance network across various institutions is the need of the hour. To eradicate corruption we need to have incorruptible citizens. While the government can introduce schemes and plans on a larger level, it comes down to the institutions and the individuals working in the institutions to ensure that the systems are not tempered with.

Effective use of Information Technology, systematic changes in procedures, E-procurement, E-payment and dissemination of information to all stakeholders through websites are some of the steps which can go a long way in curbing malpractices. I feel that though the dream of having a corruption free India is yet to be fulfilled but it is a work which is speedily progressing now than ever before.

I hope that the various programmes and deliberations planned during the 'Vigilance Awareness Week' will strengthen the resolve to eradicate corruption and help build a New India.
