MESSAGE

I am happy to know that Vigilance Awareness Week is being observed by the Central Vigilance Commission from 29th October to 3rd November, 2018 on the theme “Eradicate Corruption – Build a New India”.

India, a country that boasts of high values, morals and traditions, ironically has been facing with the problem of corruption. Building a new India is almost impossible as long as there is the cancer of corruption in it. The national goals of economic prosperity, infrastructural development, and overall advancement will remain elusive until corruption is wiped out from our country. Every Indian wishes to breathe in a cleaner, prosperous, progressive, stronger, self-reliant, and united India. This is possible only when the evil of corruption has been totally vanquished. Unless every Indian (especially in the public sector and Government run departments) discards corruption totally, the objective a new prosperous India can never be achieved.

I dream of a corruption free India. A place where everyone works hard and gets what he deserves. A place that gives equal opportunity to everyone based on their knowledge and skills irrespective of their caste, colour, creed or religion. Central Vigilance Commission is playing a very vital role by observing Vigilance Awareness Week and spreading awareness by conducting seminars and workshops every year. I convey best wishes to the Central Vigilance Commission for initiating such a courageous and challenging task to curb and eliminate corruption from our country.

Let's come together, join hands and take an oath that we will eradicate corruption from all the spheres of our life and “Build A New India”.
